SAYS RUSSIA WINS

St. Petersburg Paper Has No Doubt of Eventualities.

LIFE AND DEATH STRUGGLE

Japan Cannot Survive Defeat While Russia Can.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—Forecasting the result of the war in the far east, the Novosti declares that there is no doubt as to who will be the eventual victor than there was at the commencement of the Russo-Turkish, the Spanish-American or the Boer war.

"For Japan the war is a life and death struggle," continues the Novosti. "She places everything on one card. For Russia it is really only a colonial war, and defeat would leave the empire not greatly affected, while success would be sure to mean a great stimulus to the Russian colonization of Manchuria, where it is reasonable to suppose many soldiers will settle after the struggle is over."

"But," adds the paper, "Russia should not pay too high a price for this colonial empire, and, therefore, should conserve as far as possible the army and the fleet."

Vladivostok, March 23.—An amusing sequel has resulted from the chief of police directing that a keen lookout be kept for Japanese disguised as Koreans or as Chinese. Since the order was issued the police seize every Asiatic they see for a pull at his queue to see whether it is real or false.

Seoul, March 23.—Marquis Ito, upon taking his departure yesterday submitted to the government some suggestions for Korean reforms. The emperor has appointed Yi Shi King, a former minister of foreign affairs, as a special ambassador to bear presents to the Japanese emperor and return the compliments of Marquis Ito's visit to Korea.
